

Design a Superhero for Peace

In March 2023, Guildford Cathedral will be hosting the National Monument Against Violence and Aggression (also known as the Knife Angel), a giant sculpture in the shape of an angel that is designed to help us think about peace, friendships, kindness and forgiveness as ways to work against people being unkind to each other.

As part of the month long visit to Guildford, the Cathedral would like to display artwork from children across Surrey and we would like to invite you take part in a competition to design a Superhero for Peace.

Your Superhero for Peace can take any form you like; perhaps you can think about what they might wear and what accessories they might have, or what words they might use, and maybe even what they might give out to people as they travel around helping everyone to be at peace with each other through friendship and kindness.

HOW TO ENTER

- ◇ Get help from an adult to visit the following website address www.guildford-cathedral.org/events/knife-angel to download and print the entry form. If you are unable to print the form, please contact Becki Hartley (schools@guildford-cathedral.org) to arrange for an entry form to be sent to you.
- ◇ Design your Superhero for Peace in to the larger box.
- ◇ Write a few words in the box (or ask an adult to make some notes for you) to tell us a bit more about your superhero.
- ◇ Ask an adult to help you fill in your details on the back of the form, ensuring they add their contact details and sign the entry form.
- ◇ Send your design in to the Cathedral, using the contact details below - deadline Monday 20 February 2023.

JUDGING AND PRIZES

- ◇ There will be three age categories in the competition: (Infants (up to age 7 or School Year 2); Juniors (ages 7 to 11 or School Years 3-6); and Secondary upwards (age 11+ or School Year 7+).
- ◇ A shortlist of 10 entries per age category will be created from all the entries, with the judging for this stage being undertaken by The Very Reverend Dianna Gwilliams, Dean of Guildford.
- ◇ The shortlisted entries will then be judged by His Honour Christopher Critchlow LL.B, DL (High Sheriff of Surrey), who will decide a winner in each age category.
- ◇ All shortlisted and winning entries will be displayed in Guildford Cathedral from 1 March 2023, to coincide with the arrival of the National Monument Against Violence and Aggression.
- ◇ The winner in each category will be invited to receive an award at the High Sheriff's Installation Ceremony taking place at Guildford Cathedral on Thursday 23 March 2023 at 5.30pm. More details will be sent to winners via email following the outcome of the competition.
